EMERGENCY DISASTER KITS & SUPPLIES

R.E.P.P

Regional Emergency Preparedness Program

A. Disaster Storage Unit Provider

B. Emergency Personnel Preparedness Program Provider

C. Emergency Disaster Supplies & Training Provider

With the Regional Emergency Preparedness Program (REPP), you can rest easy knowing that in case of an emergency, your company has taken every precaution to ensure the safety of each and every employee.

The Regional Emergency Preparedness Program (REPP) covers each and every aspect of proper procedure and know how incase you are in an emergency disaster situation at the work place.

Evacuation programs, appointed personnel, onsite Triage centers, emergency disaster supplies & training; are just a few things that Regional First Aid will explore in depth.

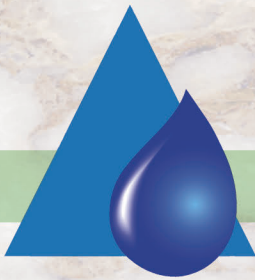

The Regional Emergency Preparedness Programs work hand & hand with CERT (Community Emergency Response Teams), American Red Cross as well as multiple county fire departments to stay current with updated emergency safety regulations. This will ensure that you are always up to par with the most up to date information that may be needed incase of an emergency disaster.

OSHA GUIDELINES

FIRST AID KITS AND SUPPLIES, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1910.151 (b)

Adequate first aid supplies shall be readily available.

EYE WASH AND EYE STATIONS, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1910.151 (c)

Where the eyes or body of any person may be exposed to injurious corrosive materials, suitable facilities for quick drenching or flushing of the eyes and body shall be provided within the work area for immediate emergency use.

EYE WASH AND EYE STATIONS, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1910.132

However, the employer could be cited for a violation of the general duty clause if the most reasonable predictable injury from such exposure is serious in nature, regardless if the product is corrosive or not. The information on the MSDS and/or product label demonstrates that the hazard is "recognized."

EYE AND FACE PROTECTION, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1919.133 (a)

Protective eye and face equipment shall be required where there is a reasonable probability of injury that can be prevented by such equipment. In such cases, employers shall make conveniently available a type of protector suitable for the work to be performed, and employees shall use such protectors. Suitable eye protectors shall be provided where machines or operations present the hazard of flying objects, glare, liquids, injurious radiation, or a combination of these hazards.

CPR AND FIRST AID TRAINING, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1910.151 (b)

In the absence of an infirmary, clinic or hospital in near proximity (3 minutes) to the workplace which is used for the treatment of all injured employees, a person or persons shall be adequately trained to render first aid.

BLOODBORNE PATHOGENS, OSHA CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION 29 CFR 1910.1030 (d)

Employers shall protect their employees from the hazards of bloodborne pathogens and comply with this standard through the use of universal precautions, engineering controls, work practice controls, personal protective equipment (gloves, gowns, face shields, CPR mask, etc. ...), proper housekeeping (clean up kits, etc. ...), and handling of regulated waste.

This information was extracted from the OSHA Book "29" Code of Federal Regulations, actual OSHA citations, various OSHA publications and from the FDA Policy Guidelines on "Over the Counter Emergency Oxygen Use." The information is in no way a complete record of the applicable regulations. For more detailed information, contact your local distributor or the appropriate state or federal OSHA office
